"March"- ing into Good Times

Whether spring training returns to the Valley of the Sun is still unknown as of press time, but there will be plenty of other great things to do in Sun City AZ so let's get them listed here for your convenience.

Besides the sports and physical activities that many enjoy that help us stay healthy and fit such as golf, pickleball, lawn bowling, softball, bowling, swimming and more, you'll find a little bit of something for everyone as we continue "returning to normal."

The weather will be perfect as warmer temperatures and days of sunshine guarantee lovely morning walks, relaxing evenings on the patio and fun with friends and loved ones.

Hopefully you've already secured your ticket for the Sun City AZ Senior Prom on Friday, March 4 from 6 to 9pm in the Sundial Auditorium. Couples and singles alike will show off their best "Glitz and Glam" with plenty of dancing and photo opportunities. And there's nothing more special than the crowning of the King and Queen to complete this funfilled evening of festivities.

If sewing (or simply admiring) quilts is one of your passions, you'll want to stop by Lakeview Center on Friday-Saturday, March 4-5 from 9am to 4pm for this returning show hosted by Creative Quilters. You will be amazed by these beautiful works of functional fabric art.

Vroom, vroom your way to the Sun Bowl on Saturday, March 5 from 9am to 1pm for the 5th Annual Vintage Vehicles Spring Fling Car Show. There's sure to be a make or model that will bring back some fond memories along with music, food, vendors, raffles and more.

Speaking of the Sun Bowl, the spring concert series stars on Sunday, March 6 as we welcome Kevin Sterner and Strait Country to get the fun started. There's nothing better than an evening of music and dancing at this iconic open-air amphitheater where RCSC Cardholders and their guests enjoy great entertainment – for free! Bring your lawn chairs or blankets, and grab some grub from one of the gourmet food trucks that arrive 1-1/2 hours before the show – or BYOB! See the full line-up on shows on page 10 or online at www.suncityaz.org/recreation/concerts.

There are still tickets available for the remaining Sundial Concerts (see below) – which have all received great reviews from attendees this season. With both matinee (3pm) and evening (7pm) performances, there's certain to be something to pique your musical interest. Purchase tickets at the Sundial Events & Entertainment Office or call 623-561-4680 for assistance.

Bucky Badger and other UW campuses invite all to show their support when the Wisconsin Club Picnic returns to the Sun Bowl on Thursday, March 10 from 10am to 3pm. Just $10 gets you brat/hot dog, soda/beer, chips, music and more! Cheese heads unite!

Visit Sundial Center on Friday-Saturday, March 11-12 from 9am to 2pm when both the Handweavers & Spinners Club and Sundial Crafters host open houses/sales for anyone interested in these creative endeavors. And remember to stop by Thursday-Saturday, March 17-19 when Palo Verde Artists host their annual "fine arts" show from 8am to 5pm each day.

There's always time to do something for others, so please consider donating the gift of life at Bell Center on Thursday or Friday, March 17-18 from 8am to noon. Hosted by the Sun City AZ Visitors Center in conjunction with Vitalant Blood Donation Centers, call 623-977-5000 or visit donors.vitalant.org online (Code: suncity) to register. You'll feel great!

Find the time to "rock on" at the Rockhound Club's Rock Sale on Saturday, March 19 from 8am to 1pm at the Mountain View Center where you'll find unique specimens, slabs and petrified wood for your crafting or décor projects.

Another annual event is back as Marinette Clay Corner hosts their annual sale on Friday-Saturday, March 25-26 starting at 8am each day until 4pm and 3pm respectively. Known for their one-of-a-kind totem pole creations, you're sure to find yard art, decorative and functional pieces and original sculptured creations for yourself or to give as gifts.

On a serious note, make plans to attend the MSCO Community meeting on Monday March 28 at 10am in the Sundial Auditorium. Sponsored by SCHOA, crime, fraud and resident safety will be discussed.

How's that for things to keep you busy? We're lucky to have such great events as we "march" into springtime. Let's enjoy!

A Message from Board President Dale Lehrer

Making Plans for the Future

The time has come when Sun City AZ is truly at a crossroads. While we were the first of its kind active adult community and we have welcomed and weathered several generations, the time is now that we must work together on a strategic plan that will take us forward for another 60+ years.

We need to analyze and assess where we currently are and where we want to be – for everyone here, not just a small portion of the population. This should require various levels of activities so that as one ages, there is still plenty to enjoy.

This will require that we develop a plan and document the basis of the organization - how ideas can be brought forward and considered. It is my hope that the return of Board/Member Exchanges will be a step in that direction.

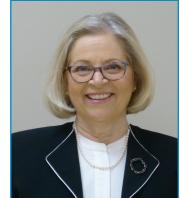

Action will need to be taken based upon sound planning and principles based on facts and data, not just wants, wishes and personal preferences. It is highly unlikely that we can address the current situation of this organization along continued improvements in recreational facilities and amenities we enjoy expecting it will not come with a hefty price tag down the road.

I sincerely hope that we can go forward with an open dialog and understanding from both sides of the podium. The simple fact is we can't have everything we want and expect fees to remain the same. It will take communication and compromises to come to a consensus. The time for these discussions is not when the plans are on the table but prior to the plans being prepared.

Let's move forward with an eye on the future rather than continuing to re-discuss items that have already been decided. While sharing various thoughts and Ideas is important, they merely personal opinions which reflect your views; they are not the only answer.

The ability for us to survey the community needs to move forward so that we can gather information from a cross-section of those currently residing here. And it should be ongoing and repeated so that changing individual needs and requirements are considered in addition to what newer and often younger RCSC members might want. Any data collected will be without prejudice nor fear of ulterior motives; strictly information and opinion to help make sound decisions.

In addition to technology improvements, the safety and well-being of all Sun Citians is crucial. The need for some sort of leadership committee (which includes outside organizations) perhaps should be considered as we look to address crime and other issues of community concern.

The Maricopa County Sheriff's Office will be conducting a meeting on Monday, March 28 at 10am in the Sundial Auditorium which I would encourage all concerned citizens to attend. We must work together and care for one another; being aware, getting educated and knowing the truth are important tools needed to address these issues as we watch out for our friends and neighbors, knowing that they are doing the same.

Changing expectations, cultural attitudes and their eventual outcomes will require everyone's involvement. I have high hopes as we work on a process to review, revise and update the RCSC Bylaws/Corporate Documents with the understanding that they need to be streamlined and simplified for the betterment of the community as a whole. This will not be a quick nor easy process but one that seems sorely needed to find a common ground with mutual respect and agreement.

Let's consider the wants and desires of all as we attempt to make the world a better place if we can.

Thoughts from a Pro

Words of Encouragement

Thanks, but no thanks!

One of the biggest complaints I get from my students is the unwarranted advice they get from others while in the middle of a round of golf. It makes them try harder, think too much, tense up and can take the fun right out of the round. It's only natural for people to want to help those who look like they need help; although well intentioned, it's rarely useful and most often detrimental. Why? Because the advice, rather it be good or bad is being given at the wrong time...in the middle of playing the game!

Think about it in a different way. Let's say we are talking about a basketball game and a player has been fouled and is shooting a free throw. Is the coach going to say to that player, "OK Sally, now remember when you're taking the shot...spread your fingers out on the ball and bend your wrist back, keep your shooting elbow in and bend your knees"! Of course not. There is a time to learn the fundamentals and it's during practice, not during the game. The coach might instead say, "OK Sally... let's go - you got this! In other words, offering words of encouragement and some positive affirmation is helpful and keeps the player relaxed which is what you want in a game type situation. Talking about mechanics would most likely do the opposite, make the player overthink, tense up and probably miss the shot. It certainly seems like common sense when we think of other sports but for some reason when it comes to golf this common sense seems not to apply!

So what is the best way to help others on the golf course when they are struggling? Encourage them, remind them to breathe and relax, or maybe slow down, or go easy. Offer to help them after the round or the next day on the driving range if you feel that is needed but save your mechanics coaching for a more appropriate time. It's like my Dad used to tell me, "You gotta dance with who brung you!" In other words, go with what you got. You can't change your swing (or anyone else's) in the middle of the round successfully anyway. So go with it and if changes are needed, make them afterwards! It honestly works better that way and makes the game more fun for all!

Sun City Rockhounds

Are you an....armchair traveler? Outdoor adventurer? Do you like to...socialize with others? Learn about Arizona Geology? If you are a fan of the above, the Rock Hound club is for you!

The club enjoys outdoor guided rock hounding day trip adventures on the third Thursday of the month. Don't know what to look for? Our scouts find areas for collection in easy to access locations. Generally sites are right next to where we park.

We have monthly meetings with interesting and knowledgeable guest speakers. From updates on the Mars rover missions to learning about meteorites, we have it all. Sit back and enjoy the presentations! Meetings are the second Thursday of the month at 6 pm at the Fairway Recreation Center. We enjoy social time with beverages and snacks before the guest presentation.

The club maintains a Gem and Mineral Museum at the Sundial Recreation Center. We have many world class specimens. It's a great place where club members enjoy volunteering to learn and share knowledge with other club members and the public while maintaining the museum. Its open 5 days a week 10am to 1 pm, closed Thursday and Sunday.

Want to learn more? Check out our Face-Book page or email us at scrockmuseum@gmail.com.

Lifelong Learning Club

The Sun City Lifelong Learning Club is an educational organization whose mission it is to provide RCSC members with educational programs at a low cost.

Over the past 14 years, the Club has offered classes in various topics such as Astronomy, Archeology, Retirement Planning, News and Issues, Collaborative Negotiations, Medicine and Health, Ages and Stages of Life, History and Culture, Art (both production and appreciation), Architecture, Philosophy, Sociology, Drama, Film, and Cinema, Music, Energy sources and challenges, Language and Storytelling, and Travel. Readers who have an area of expertise which might be of interest to Sun City residents, Lifelong Learning would welcome hearing from and about you!

Lifelong Learning is currently in a hiatus mode because of the contagion of the coronavirus and implications for the classroom experience. Michigan Friends in Sun City

The Michigan Friends in Sun City Club held its first meeting of interest in 2013 and became an official RCSC Chartered Club in 2015 with 75 members. We have enjoyed fun times ever since! Activities include monthly Social Hours and monthly Monday Euchre, year-round. Both meet at the MPR Building near Bell Rec Center. There is a special Christmas lunch event in December. Members also enjoy outside activities in Sun City and day trips in the Phoenix area.

Pick up a club brochure/application in the Sun City Visitors Center and join fellow Michiganders who are permanent residents as well as snowbirds. Membership is $5 per person, annually. We really have some great stories to share. And some are even true!

Ukulele Club

The Sun City Ukulele Club invites you to join us for music and fun. We meet weekly to play and sing. Don't know how to play? We'll teach you. Don't have a ukulele? Borrow one from the library, we have donated ukuleles to both the Fairway and Bell Center libraries.

We meet at the Fairway Rec Center in the music room at 3:00pm on every Thursday. Members of the club take turns leading the group. Your skill level does not matter, all RCSC members are welcome.

In addition to weekly gatherings to sing, we do performances when invited. We perform at the November arts and crafts show, the Glendale Arts Festival, and at club parties when asked. We take every opportunity to gather for fun, music and fellowship!

Come by on a Thursday afternoon and check us out.

SilverStones at Sundial

Welcome to the SilverStones Club at Sundial. You are invited to come and check out our all-in-one club - NO EXPERIENCE NECESSARY.

Have you ever wanted to learn any of these crafts?
• Silversmithing • Lapidary • Glass Fusion • Lost Wax/Casting • Chain Making • Faceting • Wire Wrapping •

Are you wondering what some of these crafts are all about? Come on over to Sundial Center and introduce yourself. We have many friendly, helpful club members and teachers to get you started. We will help you become your own Artist! If you have experience, that's great! You too could become a teacher/trainer. The more the merrier. Carving is an enjoyable part-time hobby and a great way to make handmade decorations or gifts. Carving is not only relaxing but lowers stress and is a great way to socialize. Age and fear are not barriers to becoming a carver. Take a chance. Take a risk. Carving is not difficult as you begin to learn the different tools and techniques.

Undecided, take one of our classes. We have tool kits for your use until you decide what you will need. The club has an inventory of wood and gourds. Gourd art and wood carving are not expensive hobbies, you will carve for a year on what you pay for a tank of gas

Water Conservation

Water Facts: Did you know....

It takes approximately 70 gallons of water to fill a bathtub? Or that you can save 15 gallons of water during a 10-minute shower by using low-flow showerhead?

That it was 1994 when low-flow showerheads, faucets and toilets made a "splash" on the water-conservation scene in homes and businesses due to a federal mandate?

Nearly 22% of indoor home water use is from doing laundry? (Be sure to adjust settings appropriately for load sizes!) Older, less efficient top-loading washing machines uses nearly 40 gallons per load? That a front-loading machine uses just over 20 gallons per load and is more energy- and water efficient?

That dishwashing is a relatively small part of your water footprint; usually less than 2% of indoor water use? Standard dishwashers use only about 6 gallons of water to run a full cycle and Energy Star dishwashers use only about 4 gallons of water per completed wash.

That using a dishwasher is more efficient that washing your dishes by hand - especially if you run full loads? That hand-washing your dishes can use upwards of 20 gallons of water? (Sink of soapy water, wash, rinse, repeat. If you must hand wash be sure to fill one sink with soap and one with clear rinsing water!)

Most importantly, do you know how important you are in the grand scheme of water conservation? Our children, grandchildren and those on down the line are depending on us to conserve our natural resources, especially our water.

Remember, every drop counts.

Tips from Get Fit for Life

Finding a Workout Buddy

"When it comes to working out, having a friend to keep you accountable is a real plus," states Jane Fortier, personal trainer for Get Fit for Life. "A buddy offers support, motivation and even some laughs. That buddy can provide positive reinforcement that might transform your tedious gym workout into a fitness success story. Accountability partners, or workout buddies, directly increase the duration and adherence needed to see results in a training plan. After all, things like weight loss and muscle strength don't happen overnight. Commitment is required, and that is more likely to occur if a buddy is expecting to meet you at the gym."

Consider the following questions, in your quest to find a workout buddy:

• Do I Need an Accountability Partner?

All types of people, regardless of personality or goals, can benefit from a partner - thanks to the multi-faceted nature of the fitness journey. Both extroverts and introverts can benefit from teaming up. Extroverts often take on the role of motivator, because they enjoy social interaction. Having a workout buddy helps the extrovert meet their social needs in a productive, healthy way. Introverts will get that extra push for a new challenge, from a buddy. They often need to be coaxed into fitness activities outside of their comfort zone. A workout buddy can be just the right springboard for new learning opportunities. If you find yourself in need of an accountability partner, don't be hard on yourself. It doesn't mean that you're incapable of achieving success on your own. Even the most motivated people need a little nudge in the right direction.

Where Do I Find an Accountability Partner?

A good start is friends and family. These individuals are more likely to provide the comfort and trust necessary, in an accountability partner. Included in this group are: significant others, spouses, co-workers, neighbors, church acquaintances, relatives who live in Sun City. A workout buddy could possibly be found in the Fitness Center. That natural "sense of community", that exists in the gym, doubles as a catalyst for meeting people. If you start to notice familiar faces when you are working out alone, there's a good chance your schedule and interests will overlap with one of those faces. Striking up a conversation could lead to a valuable new friendship, founded on similar goals. That new friend may be just the workout buddy you were looking for. Certainly don't get discouraged - finding someone worthwhile takes time and patience.

· What Should I Look for in an Accountability Partner?

Finding a compatible partner requires a mindful approach. Your partner should be someone that you like. It might seem like a no-brainer, but it's actually the most important factor. There are many different personalities out there, and exercise can test your patience and endurance. So, pick someone with whom you feel comfortable and safe. Be wary of a buddy who is flaky, tardy and criticizes others. A buddy shouldn't make you feel uncomfortable or insecure. RESPECT is also an important factor to consider. If the thought of disappointing your partner by skipping-out on a workout, makes your stomach sink, that's a good sign. You have picked a workout buddy who fuels your need for accountability, and pulls out the best in you.

How Can I Be a Good Accountability Partner?

Simple - be the accountability partner that you would want to have: punctual, sincere, upbeat, willing to work. These actions will cultivate a true connection with that partner, and encourage compatibility. Keep a positive attitude, generate excitement and maintain mutual respect for a workout buddy. These actions will go a long way in making your relationship a success. Give it your all, do it with a smile and you both will succeed.

Get Fit for Life personal trainers are great at getting Sun City residents started with an exercise program. Once training sessions are completed, that same trainer can help a client locate a workout buddy, who might help with the accountability issue. Get Fit for Life trainers create workouts that are individualized to needs, goals and medical issues. To find out more about personal training, call 623-696-6820 or visit Get Fit for Life Sun City on Facebook.
