

We're Changing for YOU!

We are proud to introduce important changes in how we communicate with RCSC Members and Cardholders to help you connect to the information you need in the easiest and most efficient way. As a first step, we present to you this month, some updates to our flagship publication, now known as Sun City Update – with more changes to come in the New Year.

For starters, you should have immediately noted the larger type font size introduced throughout this publication along with some improvements to the design and layout. Work will continue to evolve in all aspects of communications including updates to the RCSC website and new systems being implemented to track comments, compliments and requests.

There will also be a pronounced and dynamic focus towards serving Members, including extensive support for RCSC staff on the front lines whose daily contact and conversations make lasting impressions on residents and visitors, whether you're new to Sun City or having been enjoying it for years.

Changes will evolve over time, so we appreciate your support and patience, but the final goal is a future that incorporates the desires and needs of those in our community, allowing for opportunities to become more involved and committed to caring, compassion and consistent application of the necessary guidelines and policies.

And to have fun along the journey!

Many of you are well aware that there have been a number of dramatic changes that have occurred within the RCSC over the past year. Between the new board and the new management team, it's truly been a directional shift to a more member-focused organization. With our eye on the future, we are counting on you to help us make good choices. It's a collective process that has proven successful. In an effort to further this process, I will not be writing my monthly column. In its place, I am giving space to a member of the community to share their thoughts on the community we all love.
– RCSC Board President Kat Fimmel

Sun City is the City of Volunteers. People who have chosen to give of themselves in so many different roles to help make our community a wonderful place to live.

The people who serve on the Recreation Centers of Sun City (RCSC) Board of Directors are residents who give of their time and various talents and knowledge. Their goal is to steer the day-to-day operations of the RCSC for the best possible outcome. The same is true for their long-term goals for RCSC.

Sometimes residents are confused over the duties of the RCSC Board of Directors. They are not in charge of running Sun City as a community. They have no governing authority outside the RCSC. This means they have no authority to enforce Sun City CC&Rs. Age overlays, code enforcement, and all other covenants, conditions, and restrictions fall under the jurisdiction of the Sun City Homeowners Association (SCHOA). This is a separate organization dedicated to successfully maintaining our community.

The members who have chosen to serve on the RCSC Board of Directors serve in many capacities. Beyond holding Board meetings, they hold monthly Exchange meetings where any member can speak to the Board to address any RCSC related concerns, complaints, or requests. Afterwards, the Board meets to discuss how best to address these member concerns.

Additionally, Board members spend numerous hours preparing for the various committee meetings, following up on actions needed.

The Board ensures that Sun City is the wonderful, fun community we enjoy. Our Recreation Centers are kept up to date and the equipment in good working order. Best of all they ensure that members have the opportunity to attend concerts, entertainment, and annual club craft fairs, Holiday events, movies, programs and so much more.

The RCSC Board is not perfect. I believe each member who serves on the Board does so with the best of intentions. You may disagree with the direction they are steering RCSC. Not everyone will agree with the Board's actions. Members have differing opinions, but the Board has to serve the desires of the majority of our community. That is their responsibility.

Now the Board is holding elections for four open positions. This is your chance as a member to choose who will serve on the Board. You can learn more about the members who want to serve on the Board. You can learn which direction each candidate feels they want the Board to follow. After that, please vote so that your voice can be heard. The future is in our hands. - A.S.

Thoughts from a Pro -
Basic Tips for Solid Putting

When it comes to putting there are almost as many different grips, stances, and styles as there are putters! In other words, everyone is individual and what works for one person may not work for another. Preferences vary across the board and that is OK! There are a few things that most good putters have in common...let's talk about them.

First it is important to line up your putt from behind the ball. Use the ball as a reference point or pick an intermediate target on the green but use both eyes facing the hole. Perception with your eyes from the side of the ball will generally not be accurate.

Second, make sure your eyes are above the golf ball on your set-up. Standing over the ball in this way helps you make a straighter back and forth stroke which keeps the ball on line. The further you are away from the ball the more difficult it is to control the direction.

Third, use your hands, arms, and shoulders together to make a pendulum like stroke. This might mean having both arms straight, or one straight and one bent, or both arms with the elbows bent. Regardless of how you start the key is to keep it the same as you make the stroke back and forth. This eliminates the use of the wrists, which is a much riskier way to putt and makes it harder to control direction and distance. If this is difficult for you consider going to a long putter which makes it harder to use too much of the wrists or try your left hand low on the grip.

Remember, once your mechanics are solid and consistent, putting is largely about confidence. Practice pressure- type situations, perhaps a putting contest with a friend, to simulate on course conditions.

The performance will last about 90 minutes with an intermission," she said.

Carey said, "Music provides a spiritual uplift and as a chorus we enjoy the camaraderie of learning and performing together as a team. Bell Stitchers

Have you ever sat behind a sewing machine? Even if it's been years, we have a club that would be interested in your talent. We're a totally 100% charity driven club that sews items for Hospice of the Valley, quilts for vets, clothes for children at Title I designated schools close by Sun City, and requested items by church groups.

Even if you haven't sewn in years, we have items for you to make and members with wide ranging skill levels to assist you. You don't even need your own sewing machine. The club furnishes sewing machines, tools and all the accessories that are needed. You provide your skill, time and a little creativity to the club.

We accept donations of fabric and sewing accessories from the community and if we can't use them, they are passed on to other clubs that can. There is boutique shopping in our club room. All the money received goes towards the purchase of what the club needs and uses during the year.

The club is currently open Tuesday, Thursday and Friday 9am to 3pm, Monday and Wednesday 9am to 8pm and Saturday 9:00am to 1:00pm. Every morning we have coffee and cookies promptly at 10am. (It's a great time to catch up and have a few laughs with members.) We're a fun group of people. Come join us! Membership is open to all RCSC cardholders at the fee of only $3 a year! Lakeview Lawn Bowl Club

There might not be a prettier, more serene setting in all of the United States to lawn bowl than at the Lakeview lawn bowling green. Situated adjacent to Viewpoint Lake, the two-green complex's setting murmurs tranquility. Now that the lake re-lining project is finished and as we head into this year's lawn bowling season, consider stopping by for a look-see.

None of that stopped that remarkable turn-around by the lawn bowling community this past winter and spring. The pandemic hurt every club as numbers dwindled to all-time lows. Coming out of it, RCSC members were hungry to get back outdoors and enjoy all the community has to offer. Lawn bowling was one of those options that members availed themselves to. Why not as it's an easy game to learn, but a hard game to master.

The results of a massive effort to reach out to potential new bowlers was successful beyond the lawn bowling communities' wildest imagination. Over 100 people took lessons (that are free by the way), and the vast majority have gotten bit by the lawn bowling bug. It is an incredibly social game that at the same time gets the competitive juices flowing. On top of that, there are five different venues to bowl across Sun City.

Lakeview Lawn Bowls club president Val Tilton has led the effort to train new bowlers. Along with Norm Dickson, they have given the brunt of the initial classes teaching them the rudiments of the game. For those who know the lawn bowling community, they realize it truly has been a group effort. We all understand the importance of encouraging new bowlers and making them feel welcomed. Val has been delighted by the enthusiasm and excitement from these new recruits.

You too can learn the game quickly. Contact anyone of the five Sun City lawn bowling clubs and sign up for free lessons. Lakeview bowls on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday and summer hours vary.

Tips from Get Fit for Life

Momentum Obstacles During Weight Loss

Losing weight can be an emotional rollercoaster,” states Jane Fortier, personal trainer and weight management specialist. “In the beginning, things go great. You’re motivated, determined and excited about your plan. The scale moves in the right direction. You feel alive, energized and confident. Just when you think you have everything under control, life begins to shift. The energy level starts plummeting. You aren’t nearly as excited as you were weeks earlier. You begin to skip exercise sessions. Junk food slips back into your diet, especially during the holiday season. Your momentum begins to dissipate. Before long, you come to a complete standstill. The little voice in your head says, I’m tired, I don’t want to do this anymore.”

Basic Momentum Obstacles will always crop-up, with any weight loss journey. Identifying these obstacles, might make a difference in your success:

1. Boredom - Whether it’s eating the same “healthy” foods, sticking to the same exercise routine or just the realization that this is a lifelong journey, boredom inevitably sets in. Remedy: Keep things interesting. Adding variety and switching things up, with both eating and exercise, will make the journey more enjoyable. When you start making excuses for sticking to your plan, boredom is usually the culprit.
2. The Dreaded Plateau - You are losing weight at a slow but steady pace, then it stops. You haven’t seen a change in weeks, and you are feeling discouraged. Remedy: Alter your mindset. Plateaus are not a bad thing, but rather your body’s way of adjusting to a lower weight. Staying at a new set-point for a few weeks or even months is a significant accomplishment. The number on the scale may not be changing, but your body composition probably is. Shift your focus from weight loss to improved health! Once you have a better attitude about plateaus, mix up your exercise routine and alter eating habits. The plateau will subside.
3. Changes in Routine – Life always throws you curve balls: you suddenly face health concerns with a spouse; guests will be visiting from out of town; a two week vacation is coming up; the holiday season has arrived. These routine shifts can make it difficult to squeeze in exercise and stay-on-course with healthy eating. Remedy: Go back to the beginning of your journey. Before you started that journey, you had to figure out the “what, where and how” that you would use. Time to do that again. Figure out how to approach these shifts in routine. Failure to plan is planning to fail. Life is constantly shifting. If staying healthy is important, you must engage in healthy habits always, not just when it’s convenient. Think ahead, plan for changes!
4. End-of-Day Fatigue and Lack of Sleep - As the day wanes on, so does your resolve. Evenings can be tough, especially after keeping it together all day long. If you’re skimping on sleep, it makes it even more difficult to muster the energy to focus on goals, after trudging through a full day’s responsibilities. Remedy: Fatigue is indeed the enemy of weight loss. Sleep deprivation messes with your hormones, causing a surge in the hormones that increase appetite and a decrease in the ones that signal satiation. When overly fatigued, impulsive choices interfere with food selection. Making sensible choices becomes more difficult. If you want to have sustained weight loss, you must prioritize sleep in order to eliminate fatigue.

5. Living with Someone Who Is Not Concerned with Weight Loss - We are influenced by those with whom we spend the most time. When your partner is not concerned about losing weight or healthy eating, you may find yourself faced with temptation or coerced in some way. Unknowingly, those partners are sabotaging your goals. Remedy: You must speak up and make your needs known. By voicing your concern, you will open up possibilities for compromise. Don’t preach or try to convince your partner to join in a weight-loss program, just ask that he or she support you, in your efforts.

Hopefully, these suggestions will help with overcoming momentum obstacles, when they arise. On the weight loss journey, surround yourself with positive, supportive people, and become your own cheerleader and best friend. Get Fit for Life personal trainers make great coaches for a weight loss journey. Library Advice from
Helpful Hannah

Dear Helpful Hannah,
What’s the deal? It seems like every time I go to the store, prices are even higher than they were the week before. Is it true they have actually lowered some of the prices at Books Around the Corner used bookstore in the Bell Branch Library?

Signed,
Looking for a Bargain

Dear Looking,
Yes, you are correct. I checked and they have permanently reduced DVD’s to 50¢ a disc and audio books to $1.50. Their prices generally range from 25¢ to $6 for current year release hardcover books. They said they are trying to make it more reasonable for us all to buy books, puzzles, movies and music at fair prices. At these prices, I’m going to buy holiday gifts there. In fact, I may even buy myself a present or two. Maybe I’ll see you “Around the Corner.”
- Helpful Hanna

Dear Helpful Hannah,
I hear lots of good things about the Friends of the Sun City Libraries. They run a bookstore and help our two branch libraries. How can I find out more about the group and the people who run it?

Signed,
Inquiring Minds Want to Know

Dear Inquiring,
The Friends group is a 501c3 nonprofit organization run by volunteers. An elected board of directors meets monthly. For more information contact President Sue Blechl at sueblechl@gmail.com or check out the webpage www.suncitylibraryfriends.org.

Water Conservation
Water Conservation Tips for Winter Months

Winter is a time many enjoy here in Arizona. The chill in the air mixed with sunny skies can lift the spirits. It is also a time we celebrate holidays with loved ones and look ahead to a New Year – an opportunity to put in place resolutions to improve our lives, and that of our entire community.

Water conservation is a commitment that we must pay attention to year-round, and when we think ahead, we can make a big difference. Our dedication to considering every big – and small – way that we can save water, is a gift to our children, grandchildren and future generations.

This time of year, some things are easy to do:

- Have a pool that goes unused in the cooler months? Cover it to lessen the evaporation. It is also a great way to keep the water clean!
- Winter sometimes brings some rain – and catching rain in a barrel or container to use to water plants is a great way to recycle this precious resource. Just be cautious to not leave it standing too long.
- Water may take a little longer to warm up during these months, but there are products that can be purchased to hasten the heating of water. Tankless water heaters even come in mini sizes to provide hot water quick. You may even find a holiday sale on an exciting new product.
- As always, be wary of leaving water running when you are not using it – washing off food, brushing your teeth. Turn water on and off to just use enough that you need. That can be one of the greatest water savers we can participate in, given how often we use water!
- Everyone loves a compliment! Always take a moment to compliment anyone you see making an effort to conserve water. They deserve the recognition, and it is a great way to encourage others to learn how they do it! Have a great holiday season!
